6. Research at DEEC-FEUP

The Department of Electrical and Computer Engineering (DEEC) from the Faculty of Engineering, University of Porto (FEUP) is the host institution of PDEEC together with the research institutes associated with FEUP: INESC-Porto - Institute for Systems and Computer Engineering of Porto (<http://www2.inescporto.pt/>), INEB - Institute of Biomedical Engineering (<http://www.ineb.up.pt>) and ISR Porto - Institute of Systems and Robotics (<http://paginas.fe.up.pt/isrp/>).

Students applying for grants from the Portuguese Government must indicate that FEUP is the institution that grants the degree and must indicate which is the hosting institution.

8. How can I arrive at FEUP?

You have all the information at:

http://www.fe.up.pt/si_uk/WEB_BASE.GERA_PAGINA?pagina=2433

You can go by bus, underground or car. See the map:

PDEEC Roadmap

If you have Google Earth installed, you may download the file FEUP.kmz and open it to see FEUP's localization. If you don't, you must first install the Google Earth (available at <http://earth.google.com>).

By metro

FEUP is served by the D line of Metro (yellow) at the C6 zone.

 The D line (yellow) connects the University Pole to the Town Hall of Gaia in 15 minutes, passing through Trindade, where it has connection with lines A (blue), B (red), C (green) and E (violet). You must get out at the IPO station, contour the Campus S. João, carry on that long street. You must cross the transversal road and get to FEUP!

For more information, please go to:

<http://www.metroporto.pt/document/827457/879099.pdf>

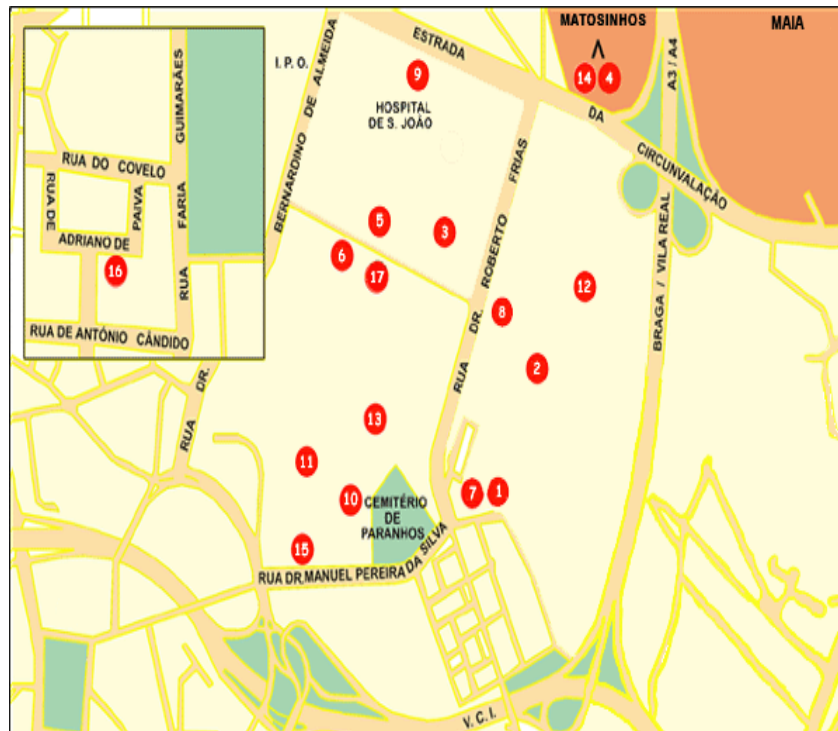

By Plane (Sá Carneiro Airport)

If you don't have your own car and if you don't want to go by taxi, the quickest way to get to FEUP is to catch the metro E line (violet). You must do the transfer at the Trindade Station and catch the D line (yellow). After that, you must follow the indications that are given in the "By metro" option.

9. How is the Campus?

The University of Porto is the biggest of Portugal. It has three Campus: (1) In the Middle of the City, (2) Asprela, (3) Campo Alegre. The Faculty of Engineering of University of Porto (FEUP) is at the Campus named Asprela. Here you have the map of it:

10. How is the city of Porto?

The University of Porto has an excellent Foreign Student Guide for you at:

http://sigarra.up.pt/up_uk/web_base.gera_pagina?P_pagina=122426

The Municipal Council of Porto International Website has all the information for you to choose:

<http://english.cm-porto.pt/index.php>

Overlooking the Douro River, Porto is one of the most ancient European cities. It was born and developed from the northern bank of this river during the Middle Ages. One of the most significant aspects of Porto and its historical centre is its landscape, combining harmony with the urban structure and presenting a frame of rare beauty. The city was classified as World Heritage by UNESCO in 1996.

When discovering Porto, you will find many surprises. Besides its welcoming and conservative environment, Porto is also contemporary and artistic. This is shown not only in the streets, architecture, monuments and museums but also in the terraces, restaurants and leisure and shopping areas.
